Space42 (ADX: SPACE42) is a UAE-based, AI-powered SpaceTech company with global reach, that integrates satellite communications and geospatial intelligence to enlighten the Earth from space.

It operates through two business units. Space Services runs a fleet of geostationary satellites, including the Thuraya mobile network, delivering secure connectivity across land, sea, and air in more than 120 countries. Smart Solutions operates a synthetic aperture radar constellation in low Earth orbit, covering 90% of the world's population, and uses AI to turn that imagery into actionable insight. Space42 serves governments and enterprises across defense and security, energy, environmental conservation, and autonomous mobility. Major shareholders include G42, Mubadala and International Holding Company (IHC).

Our story and tagline

It’s what our entire country has been built on: the ambition to go beyond what’s possible. 50 years ago, we were a young nation, now we’re a shining star on the global map. We created a vibrant nation, sent men and women into space, explored the frontiers for Mars, and charted unmatched ambitions, and it’s all been driven by the ambition to pioneer beyond expectations & the realm of possibility.

One core idea

Space42 exists to remove structural limitations between insight and impact. We integrate satellite connectivity, geospatial intelligence and AI into a single ecosystem that supports real-world decision-making at scale.

Use the sentence opposite whenever a concise explanation is needed — in conversations, presentations and introductions.

02 Voice

WE SPEAK WITH AUTHORITY, NOT HYPE

Our tone reflects how we operate. We speak with authority because our systems are designed to work together — we don't need dramatic language to be understood. Keep it consistent across leadership communications, product narratives, press, presentations and social.

Our voice

Concise

Clarity of thought is at the centre of what we do, we keep things short, sharp and to the point. We write to the Minto Pyramid Principle and The Economist's style: lead with the conclusion, then support it, in plain and precise language.
We do: everyday language, simplicity
We don't: use jargon, dumb it down, boring, generic, blunt

Illuminating

With sharp wit, innovative and future thinking, we bring a magic and wonder to illuminate
We do: inspiring, motivational, electric, possibility
We don't: over intellectualise, confuse

Approachable

A lot of what we do may not always be understood now - and we appreciate that, but most of what we do is made accessible with our open and approachable tone.
We do: human, purposeful
We don't: cold, impersonal

Bold

What we aim to achieve goes beyond what can be done today. Naturally, who we are and what we intend to do will be unexpected. Our tone should be just as boundary-pushing.
We do: thought provoking, brave, pioneering, bold
We don't: offend

Logo and icon

BUILT FROM ONE UNIT

The logo and icon are integral to our identity and are never redrawn. Every construction, clear space and graphic element in this system is measured in x — the height of one bar of the icon.

The height of 1 bar from the icon is the unit of measure, which is x. All constructions must be based on this unit of measure.

SPACING AND SIZING

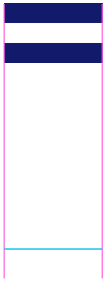

Logo

Icon

Clear space

Clear space around the logo is essential for clarity and brand integrity. Use a minimum of 3x units on all sides of the logo; for the icon, use 3x top/bottom and 2x on the sides to form a perfect square.

Minimum sizes

Minimum size guidance for our logo and icon protects legibility across all uses. Sizes vary for screen vs print, and should be followed wherever possible; especially in digital and social placements where different device screens can affect readability.

Apply the logo and icon in full colour — blue on white or white on blue — wherever possible. Black or white versions are reserved for cases where colour can't be reproduced.

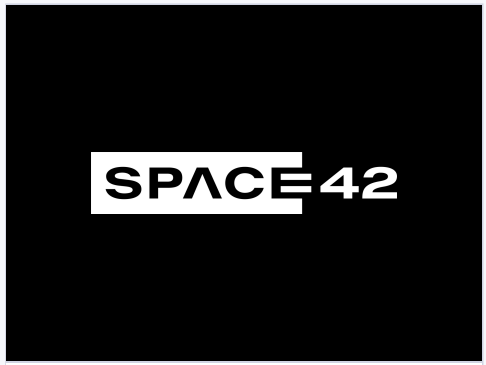

Blue on white ● PRIMARY

White on blue ● PRIMARY

03.2 DON'TS

01 Don't squash or stretch

02 Don't change the colours

03 Don't use a gradient

04 Don't outline

05 Don't add a drop shadow

Logo architecture

SPACE42 IS THE BRAND. EVERYTHING ELSE IS AN EXPRESSION OF IT

A monolithic model for scale, trust and autonomy. Space42 is the source of trust, authority and long-term vision; sub-brands explain capability, not identity; partnerships never dilute ownership of the platform. When in doubt, lead with Space42.

Blue42 and white are the identity. A secondary blue ramp supports interfaces and charts, three accents — Solar, Sand and Pulse — add signal, and Cosmos is the deep-space ground.

Our black

Cosmos is the dark colour we use instead of black. Its deep blue-violet sits naturally with Blue42, where pure black would feel flat and disconnected. Use it for hero films, dark-mode interfaces and immersive editorial.

Blue42 and Cosmos never share a composition. White type on Cosmos reaches 19.4:1.

LIVE SAMPLE · COSMOS · #0F0533

Engineered here. Operating everywhere

Cosmos is the brand's deep-space surface — used for hero films, dark-mode UI and immersive editorial spreads. White type sits on it cleanly at AAA contrast; Solar earns the moments that need to ignite.

Grounds own at least 80% of every surface. Accents earn the remaining 20% — one per composition, two at most, never all three together, and never as a background for body text.

Blue42 · dominant surface	60%
White · paper, air	20%
Solar · the one action	≤ 7%
Pulse · live figures	≤ 7%
Sand · editorial flags	≤ 6%

DON'T

Accents are never text on white

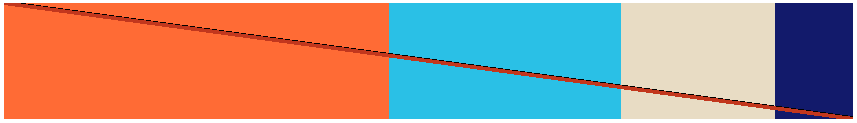

All three accents sit in the light half of the palette. As type on white they fail WCAG AA, and Sand is barely darker than the page. On white, use accents only as filled shapes — a Solar button with a Cosmos label, a Sand panel, a Pulse data mark. Accent type belongs on Blue42 and Cosmos.

Sand 1.4:1 Pulse 2.2:1 Solar 2.8:1

DON'T

Accents never take over

Blue42 and white always own the surface. Accents stay within 20% of any composition — one accent per layout, two at most, never all three together, and never as a full background or a block of body text.

07

Graphic elements

FOUR DEVICES, ONE UNIT

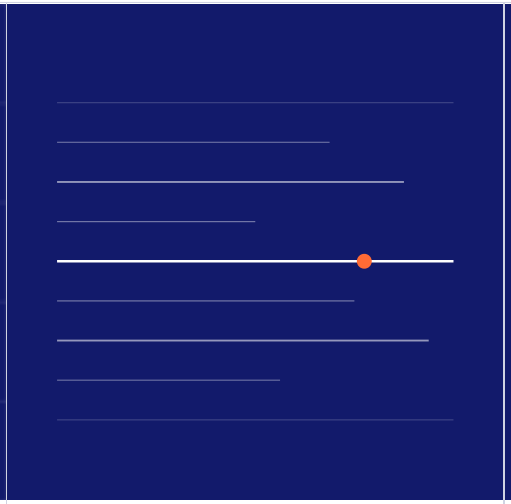

Every element is extracted from the logo's own construction, so the language is recognisably ours even with the logo cropped out. Use white at varying opacity on Blue42 or Cosmos, with at most one Solar accent.

01 / 04 · Structure

The Grid

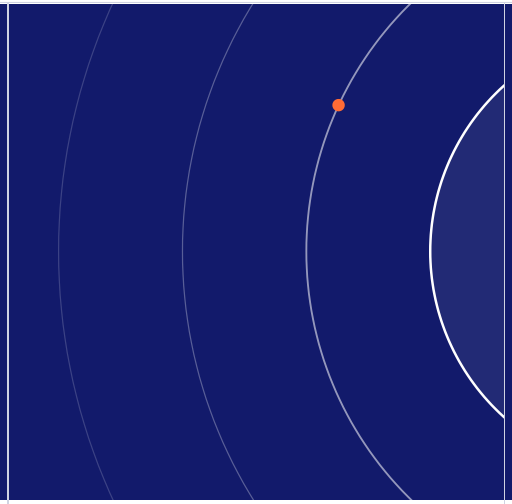

Modular squares and rectangles for structure, backgrounds, and content frames. All sized on multiples of the 1×1 unit.

02 / 04 · Motion

Signal Lines

Thin horizontal lines that suggest transmission, frequency, signal-to-noise. Used as quiet rhythm or interrupted by a brand accent.

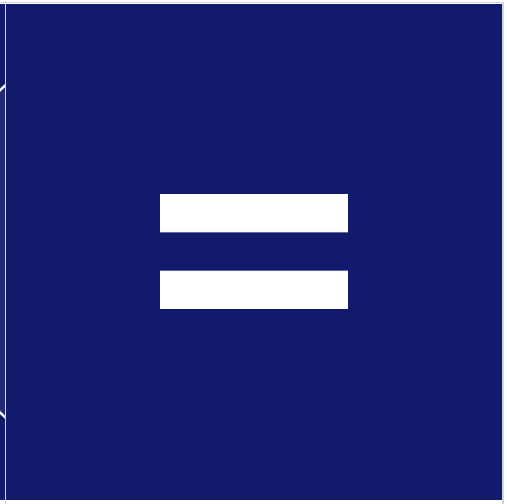

03 / 04 · Ambition

Orbit Curves

Large sweeping arcs that suggest planetary scale, reach, and ambition. Always partial — only fragments of an orbit ever shown.

The innermost curve is always Earth. Every curve outside it is an orbit — LEO, medium Earth orbit (MEO) or GEO — so a satellite dot always sits on the second curve or further out. A dot on the first curve puts a spacecraft on the ground.

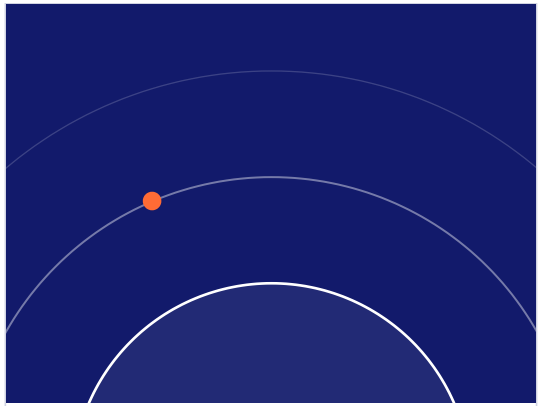

04 / 04 · Signature

The Equal Sign

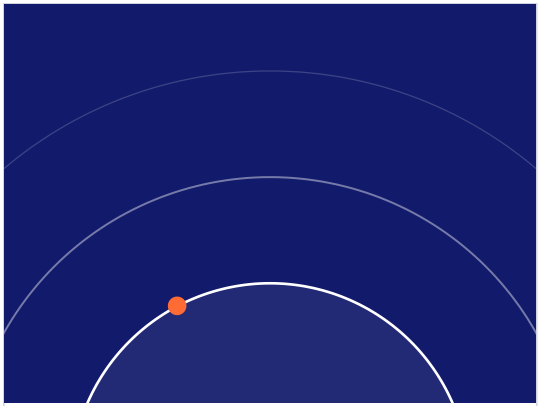

The Space42 icon used as a graphic device: a sign-off, a section marker or a large cropped watermark. Always placed from the master artwork, never redrawn, with its clear space respected.

The innermost curve is always Earth

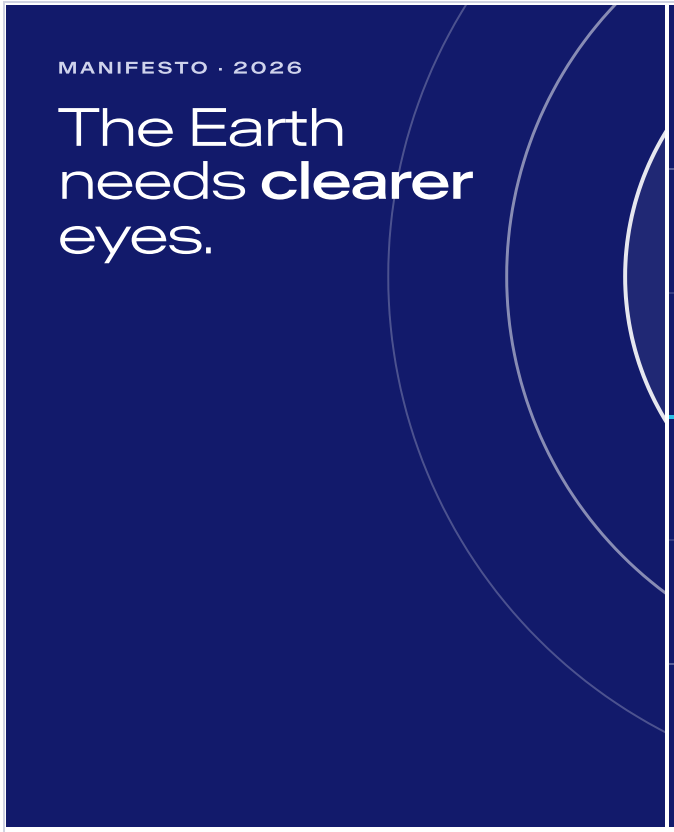

Every curve outside it is an orbit — LEO, MEO or GEO. A satellite dot therefore sits on the second curve or further out, never on the first. A dot on the innermost curve puts a spacecraft on the ground.

REVIEWS, APPROVALS AND CONTACTS

Anything that carries the Space42 name is reviewed by the right team before it goes out. Share early, include all the context, and allow the review times below.

01

Brand approvals

marketing@space42.ai

All external-facing materials that use the Space42 name, logo or visual identity are reviewed by the Brand team before they are published, shared externally, used at events or sent in company-wide communications.

APPLIES TO

- Presentations
- Marketing collateral
- Partner materials
- Event assets
- Social and digital content

Early coordination keeps materials accurate, aligned and delivered to the standard expected of Space42.

02

PR and media

communications@space42.ai

All media engagement and contact with journalists is coordinated through the Communications team. Only approved spokespeople give interviews or speak to the media.

Send every media request to the Communications team. They review and coordinate the response, and advise on tone, messaging and the right level of engagement.

TELL COMMUNICATIONS IN ADVANCE ABOUT

- Planned announcements, MoUs or major partnerships
- Media opportunities connected to events or initiatives
- Speaking opportunities

03

Events

events@space42.ai

Space42 takes part in industry events, conferences and speaking opportunities. Everything connected to Space42 at an event is coordinated with the Events team, so the company is represented consistently.

Event materials

Materials that reference or represent Space42 are shared with the Events and Brand teams in advance for review.

Speaking engagements

Invited to speak for Space42? Tell the Communications team at least 5 working days before, so slides and messaging can be reviewed and supported.

Event attendance

To attend an event, or to see where Space42 is taking part, contact the Events team. They manage the company event calendar.

04

Social media on personal accounts

communications@space42.ai

Spacers are welcome to like, share and repost official Space42 content. When you mention Space42 from a personal account, these rules protect the company, our partners and your professional reputation.

Protect confidential information

Never share confidential or non-public information about Space42, its projects, partners or customers. Financial information, upcoming announcements and deal details are never discussed publicly.

Be professional and respectful

Never post content that could be seen as offensive, misleading or damaging to the company, its partners, or the UAE's laws and cultural standards.

Don't speak on behalf of Space42

Personal opinions are not official company views. When discussing industry topics related to your work, make clear the views are your own.

Don't respond to rumours or criticism

If you see incorrect information about Space42 online, don't correct it yourself. Report it to the Communications team.

Use good judgement

Once something is online it can't easily be taken back. Think about how a post may be read before you publish it.

If in doubt, ask

Not sure whether something is appropriate to share? Ask the Communications team first.

05

Website updates

marketing@space42.ai

All updates to the Space42 website are requested and coordinated through Space42 marketing and communications.

INCLUDES

- New pages
- Product information
- Announcements and articles
- Campaign content

Send clear copy, visuals and context with every request, so updates go live quickly and stay aligned with our messaging and brand standards.

06

Co-branding

marketing@space42.ai

Any material that shows the Space42 brand next to partner logos or branding is reviewed by the Brand team before use. The review checks logo placement and hierarchy, and that both organisations' guidelines are followed.

Share co-branded materials early, so there is time for review and approval.
